During Scrimmage—Cornelius Mahoney Able to Leave Hospital.

Arthur Frothingham, who was injured in a football game Saturday at the state agricultural college, is confined to his room as he is very weak as the result of the accident. The young man was injured in the last play of the game as he was about to receive a forward pass. In the pile-up that followed he was kicked in the head and rendered unconscious, in which state he remained for twenty-four hours. He suffered a slight concussion of the brain.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREAN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against overweight. As fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body, lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unhealthy and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any person who is satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Lee & Osgood or any good druggist and get a box of oil of Korean capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy, footsteps becoming lighter and the face taking on appearance as supple as fat disappears.

Oil of Korean is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who is advised to give this treatment is advised to give this treatment.

The company will not be mustered out until every man, including the officers, has been examined.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence It At Your Door.

Norwich proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:

Wm. H. Brown, Fox Hill, near Stratford Road, Norwich, says: "My back and kidneys have given me considerable trouble for eight or ten years. My work was heavy and this used to aggravate the trouble. I noticed it mostly after my day's work, when my back felt weak and tired. Sharp pains caught me when I stooped and mornings my back was lame and sore. I heard people praising Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to give them a trial. I can say they are the best medicine I have ever used and my back now feels better than it has in years."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brown had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Can't Get Opposing Teams.
For the past few years football has been the favorite sport of Plainfield but this year a change has taken place and football is dropping out of the limelight. It is not because of the lack of a football team nor the lack of supporters as there is great interest here and a fast team has been organized and has the support of every football enthusiast of this town. The reason for the change of interest is the lack of obtaining teams to oppose the local players. The management of the local team is striving to bring some teams here and is willing to oppose any team in eastern Connecticut.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

More men are now smoking SENSIBLY—

MEN ARE willing to think a little more carefully today even about the cigarette they choose.

That is good sense. For if an otherwise good cigarette is unfortunate in its blend—if it disturbs after continued smoking—it is not worth while.

The one reason why Fatimas appeal strongly to so many thinking men is that they do not disturb. Fatimas are truly comfortable—comfortable to throat as well as tongue. And they always leave a man feeling fine and "fit" even after a long-smoking day.

INJUNCTION CASE AGAINST METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE
By Illiodor, a Russian Monk, to Prevent Suppression of Publication of His Writings.

New York, Oct. 23.—Whether certain articles dealing with the alleged influence of Rasputin, the so-called Russian mystic, over the Russian court and written by Illiodor, a Russian monk, and alleged to have been withheld from publication by the Metropolitan Magazine, may be published elsewhere is the object of injunction proceedings brought by Illiodor against the magazine in the supreme court here today.

The plaintiff asks that the magazine "be restrained from interfering with the publication of my articles," alleging that after the metropolitan had agreed to publish them for $5,000, "it seems now and with the connivance of the Russian government the Metropolitan Magazine refused to publish articles and is willing to pay me in order to suppress them."

Illiodor, who says he arrived in the United States from Norway in June last, alleged that "the suppression of this information at this time he it may weaken or destroy the Rasputin influence and intrigue may work to the detriment of Russia and will defeat the purpose for which I am writing."

Characterizing Rasputin as "an illiterate and uneducated peasant who is known as a pilgrim possessing certain powers of clairvoyance," Illiodor describes in his complaint the alleged domination of Rasputin over the Russian court, asserting that Rasputin is strong, by pro-German and is "now engaged in a conspiracy to bring about a separate peace with the Russian government."

He alleges that when it became known that the articles were to be published, the Russian consul-general here, Oustinnoff, and the Archbishop Evdokim, "for the purpose of suppressing the truth, conspired to prevent the publication of these articles."

The Metropolitan, he alleges, claims the articles as its property, and will injure him from publishing them elsewhere. Illiodor claims they are his through breach of contract.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS CLASSIFIED LISTS
Blacklists, Graylists and Whitelists For Commercial Reference.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—(By Wireless to Saville.)—"The British government not only publishes 'blacklists' and 'gray lists' but also publishes 'white lists' which contain the names of persons and houses to whom Britishers can consign merchandise," says the semi-official German Overseas News agency.

"Australia likewise edits white lists for China, Siam and Liberia."

The British lists have been completed by so-called secret lists, which have been now introduced for the handling of commerce in Europe. This secret list is original and apparently through the difficulties arising from great Britain because of the protests of neutral countries against the blacklists.

The names of persons and houses on this list are not published, but are known to the British stations and the control of shipping and export trading. These stations impede the forwarding of goods coming from the houses named. These goods must be unloaded in British ports and can be bought by British traders if forwarded and it is not required that they be sent back to their original source.

By such secret lists England saves appearances and can pretend to yield to neutral protests while the facts themselves are in no wise changed."

Torrington.—A farewell reception was given at Calvary Baptist church Monday night to Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Todd and family, who are to leave Torrington this week for Hartford.

KARL STRAKOSCH DIES
SUDDENLY IN HARTFORD
Was the Husband of the Late Clara Louise Kellogg, Opera Singer.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 23.—Karl Strakosch, husband of the late Clara Louise Kellogg, opera singer died suddenly today in his room at the hotel Heublein.

Mr. Strakosch had retired Sunday evening in apparently good health. He had spent the day with friends in the open, motoring and visiting many of his acquaintances in the section and had partaken of dinner in the evening.

This morning, on arising, his adopted daughter, Miss Claire Strakosch, heard him call. As she passed his room, in their suite she noticed he was very ill, but before a physician could arrive Mr. Strakosch was dead.

Telegrams were sent at once to New York, and cablegrams were dispatched to his musical associates in London and on the continent.

Karl Strakosch was born in Vienna, Austria, April 16, 1860, and received his earlier classic education in that city. He came to America as a young man and managed several prominent operas.

He married Miss Kellogg in 1887, a few years later Mr. and Mrs. Strakosch, owing to the ill health of Clara Louise Kellogg's mother, went to New Hartford, the ancestral home of the Kelloggs, and took up their residence at Elmwood, where they were joined by Clara Louise Kellogg, died last spring.

As it was Mrs. Strakosch, rather than her husband, who preferred Rome in the winter, Mr. Strakosch had planned to spend the coming season in New York with his daughter.

Essex.—Frederick B. Hunt, who has been organist at St. John's Episcopal church for several years past, will finish his engagement there Nov. 15. The music committee of the church has engaged A. D. W. Chalker as Mr. Hunt's successor.

HOSTILE SEAPLANES ATTACK EASTERN FRISIAN ISLANDS
German Admiralty Claim They Failed to Cause Any Damage.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Wireless to Saville.)—"The admiralty made the following announcement today: 'Hostile seaplanes on the morning of October 22 attacked without success our eastern Frisian Islands (in the North sea). No damage was caused.'

On the afternoon of October 22 one of our naval planes successfully bombed the railroad station and docks at Sheerness, at the mouth of the Thames."

Official announcement was made in London yesterday that a hostile aeroplane had dropped four bombs at Sheerness, three of them falling into the harbor and the fourth damaging several railway carriages. Later a seaplane, believed to be one which attacked Sheerness, was shot down by a British aviator, falling into the sea.
